

A Fresh Review Movie Standards

We will always review the movies by two different standards:

- 1) artistically and
- 2) thru a Christian Worldview.

We do this because we all have seen a poorly done Christmas Play at church. The greatest story ever told....can be told poorly. Conversely, a dazzling piece of art can lack a Christ centered world view.

Our artistic movie reviews will always be graded as the following:

regular ticket price and concessions= it's a classic

regular ticket price=great movie

matinee= good movie

HBO or Netflix= alright movie

regular tv = barely worth your time

Read a book instead = A Fresh Word struggled to stay til the end. We did it for you!

Our Christian Worldview reviews will always be rated as following:

CS Lewis Grade=perfectly aligned with Scripture

The Passion Grade= Has a Christian World but problematic themes or content

The Blank Slate Grade= the movie is neutral, only displaying general grace

A Lil Shady Grade=not overtly evil but non Christian World View

Shower Special Grade=You will feel dirty if you go.

Smells Like Brimstone Grade='A Fresh Word' had to pray to get thru it...pure evil
